Up to $50,000 to be claimed â?? Are you IN? (SingSaverâ??s Cashback vs. Air Miles Contest)

Description

SingSaver is giving away up to $50,000+ of FREE CASH for this month as an early incentive for Chinese New Year 2019, and itâ??s up to you and me to claim it. Are you in or are you in?

Wait, whatâ??s happening?!

In case youâ??re clueless, the last few months have seen me battle it out with Aaron of The MileLion (an obsessed miles junkie) over whether cashback or air miles credit cards are more superior.

Obviously thereâ??s a place and time for both sort of cards, and youâ??ve seen me made that distinction very clearly on this blog before, but today, it is time for everyone in Singapore to pick a side and show your loyalty.

How come thereâ??s so much cash?!

The game mechanics are simple.

$$ Method 1: Sign up for a card

You just need to join the right side by applying for a cashback card here, and then let SingSaver know here on how to send your sign-up gift to you.

On average, that will get you anything from $150 â?? $200, depending on which card you apply for.

Every application gives 1 point to either #TeamCashback or #TeamAirMiles.

$$ Method 2: Receive an additional cash angbao

If youâ??re on the winning team, youâ??ll receive a cash angbao of $20 â?? $50 per application ON TOP OF the regular rewards youâ??ve obtained for applying through SingSaver in Method 1.

- 600 â?? 799 team points : $30 cash
- 800 â?? 999 team points : $40 cash
- >999 team points : $50 cash

One way of looking at this is that if you apply for the AMEX True Cashback + Citi Cash Back Card + HSBC Advance, you could get $500 + ($50 x 3) = $650 without doing anything else!

$$ Method 3: Comment to win $888 on Facebook

Like and comment on this Facebook post with your answer on why cashback is obviously better than miles, and tag 3 friends. The best 3 answers will walk away with $888 sponsored by SingSaver.

Hint: Iâ??ve written ESSAYS on why cashback cards are infinitely superior â?? keep a lookout for my posts in the next few days and feel free to copy & paste my argumentsâ?¦or come up with your own!

Bonus tip: Go where the money is

(Cashback, of course.)

Regardless of which team wins (obviously cashback, thereâ??s a reason why majority of Singaporeans are on cashback cards), thereâ??s also another hack that Iâ??ll share with you:

Keep checking which team is in the lead on the leaderboard here + make one more last-minute application on the winning team before the game closes on 31 Jan!

Obviously cashback is going to win, but just in case people donâ??t know whatâ??s better for them and pick the wrong side, then thereâ??s also this way around it.

That way, youâ??re guaranteed of the additional bonus angbao ($20 â?? $50) so why not? Never say no to free money!
