

Get 4% p.a. interest with DBS Be Your Own Boss (BYOB)!

Description

Looking for a savings account that doesn't require you to jump through too many hoops for higher interest? If you struggle to meet the $500 monthly spend requirement on your credit card, there's a new product on the market that you might want to consider.

A few readers recently alerted me to DBS' newest promotion – the Be Your Own Boss (BYOB) savings initiative – and asked me what I thought about it. Nothing gets my attention like another high-yield saving account, so I reached out to DBS and dug out more information. Here's my take!

The premise is quite simple: DBS BYOB encourages you to pay yourself first when you get your paycheck each month. This is pretty much in line with what I've been preaching since my very first post in 2014 (read: how I saved \$20,000 in a year), so it gets a thumbs up from Budget Babe.

DBS calls this method akin to saving like a boss. At 4% per annum, that's a pretty solid interest rate, and one that currently beats all the other high-yield saving accounts I've previously reviewed.

What I used to do, before anything like BYOB was available, was to open up separate bank accounts for my savings and expenses. My paycheck went directly into my savings account, and I would manually transfer a fixed sum to serve as my "pocket money" for the month into my expenses account. For those of you who are lazy to track your daily expenses, this is a effortless way to stay disciplined and within a budget.

DBS makes it easier for you by automating this step. Set a figure sum to be automatically transferred to your POSB Save As Your Earn (SAYE) account every month and try to resist the temptation to withdraw money from your SAYE account.

Next, use your DBS / POSB Credit or Debit card to make at least 5 transactions monthly. Unlike many of the other saving accounts which require you to spend at least $500 on your credit card in order to earn bonus interest, there's no such requirement here as you could technically make as little as 5 x $1 transactions just to qualify! Need some ideas?

- Grab / Uber payments
- Grocery shopping / buying NTUC vouchers
- Watching a movie (my favourite! DBS Mastercard also gives you discounted prices at Cathay)
- Eating or drinking out
- Shopping, whether at physical retail shops or online

The infographic is titled 'KA-CHING!' and is divided into three columns. The first column, '1 PAY YOURSELF FIRST', describes crediting salary to a 'Save As You Earn (SAYE) Account' which earns 2% p.a. The second column, '2 PLAY IT SMART', describes using a DBS/POSB Credit or Debit Card at least 5 times a month to earn a 2% p.a. bonus interest. The third column shows the result: 'More interest on your SAYE Account for 2 years.' Below the text, a large equation shows '2% p.a. + 2% p.a. = 4% p.a.', with 'bonus interest' written under the second 2%. At the bottom, it says 'Details below' with a hand icon pointing to the right.

For anyone who

- Spends less than $500 on your credit card in a month and / or
- Earns less than $2,000 a month,

this would be the best account in the market with the highest interest rates.

I've compared against the other high-yielding savings accounts in Singapore and none offers such a high interest rate with such low requirements at the moment. If you know of any better deal, please jio me!

For the higher income-earners who can afford to park aside $3000 of savings every month but still don't spend enough to consistently hit $500 on your credit card, you can also take advantage of this promotion to get even higher interest than your existing <2% p.a. on the other banks' schemes.

Salary credit	$4,500
Monthly savings to SAYE	$3,000
	1 year	2 years
Accumulated savings in SAYE	$36,000	$72,000
(a) Base interest - credited monthly to SAYE
Base interest 0.25% p.a.	$48.73	$138.75
(b) Additional 2% p.a. interest - credited yearly to SAYE
Additional 2% p.a. interest	$390.30	$1,111.50
(c) Bonus 2% p.a. interest - credited to PayLah!
Bonus 2% p.a. interest	$389.75	$1,109.75
Total interest by end of 2 years	$3,188.78
Total sum	$75,188.78

View POSB SAYE base interest rates here. Tip: Deposit >\$800 monthly to qualify for the highest tier. What's the catch? Well, you'll have to be a working adult of between 18 – 30 years old with no existing salary crediting arrangement with DBS/POSB between Sept 2016 – Feb 2017. For those of you who are older, you might want to look elsewhere...

Here's what I recommend you to do in order to maximise the bonus interest of 2+2% p.a. without too much effort:

1. Register for the Be Your Own Boss initiative here.
  - a. Get $88 cash gift if you do this before 30 September!
2. GIRO credit your monthly salary into a DBS/POSB savings account.
3. Open your SAYE account online here, and select the salary crediting account as the debit account to automate your monthly savings amount between $50 – $3,000.
  - a. Choose your preferred date for the transfer between the 1st – 25th day of your salary credit.
4. Leave your SAYE account untouched.
5. Use your DBS/POSB Credit or Debit card on at least 5 transactions a month.
  - a. For the best debit card, I recommend the DBS Visa Debit Card which gives you 5% cashback on your Visa payWave purchases (min. 5 transactions a month).
  - b. You can use your card for Grab / Uber rides, or grocery shopping, or at the movies, or offer to pay the bill first when you're eating out with your friends.

Remember to get this done before 31 September 2017 to enjoy the bonus cash gift!

1. Pay yourself first to get 2% p.a.

Start crediting your monthly salary into a DBS/POSB account.

Open a new SAYE Account and decide an amount to transfer every month.

Pro tip: To enjoy 2% p.a. interest, avoid using the savings in your SAYE Account.

2. Play it smart for bonus 2% p.a.

Use your DBS/POSB Credit or Debit Card 5 times a month or more

2% p.a. bonus interest will be credited via PayLah!
