

Gowns rental! Budget bridal studio for budget brides

Description

#dayrebrides #budgetbride #diybride if anyone is still looking for a budget gown rental studio for your AD, I've secured tickets for a closed-door opening trial event where some of us on Dayre will be attending!

It'll be next Saturday, 25th March 4.30pm.

This is a brand new studio that has already been flooded with customers via word of mouth referrals before they even officially opened for business â?? because that's how budget and value for money they are.

I'll be going down for my final fitting and gown collection since that's exactly ONE day before my big day lol so come along if you want!

Let me show y'all the gems I found from my last fitting with them:

Watch me do a silly twirl in my favourite white gown from their warehouse! Sorry I couldn't wipe off that silly grin cos I was really super happy that day, getting to wear pretty gowns and all.

See me all squashed in their tiny office before their warehouse opening lol.

I loved this gown!!! It makes my boobs look big too HAHA. Was contemplating whether to use this for my AD dinner but unfortunately before I even confirmed, it got sold off to another customer who saw the pics I modelled for them in it! ð?? happy for the studio but sian for me leh

Okay seriously this gown was so flattering for my figure that I really really wanted to get this!!!! But the top design wasn't the sweetheart cut which I wanted ð??•

I also super loved this piece ð??• look at the intricate lace details!!!

And LOOK AT THIS I swear I felt like Belle in Beauty and the Beast when I put this on. Somehow Tale As Old As Time kept playing in head when I looked at myself in this in the mirror!

I need to tell you guys the story behind this shoot cos it was super funny.

Basically I clicked with the lady boss the moment I met her and her gram, absolutely wonderful folks who allowed me to try as many gowns as I wanted, ooh-ed and aah-ed with me each time I put on a devastatingly gorgeous gown (and straightforward enough to tell me "errr no your figure doesn't suit that gown") if it was a bad fit.

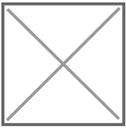

I asked them if they could give me tickets for my readers to attend their opening.

In return, I said I'll drag my fiance in to do a photoshoot with them and have our mini 2 hour package shoot! After realising how many readers I had (lol) and that my fiance was a former model, they said they'll do it for free for me cos they needed models anyway and liked my fiance's looks too HAHAHAHA

So that's the story of how we got another mini PWS and how I secured tickets for you guys to attend the closed-door opening with me!!

My favourite photo from the shoot! This is going up on our bed wall after the wedding ð???

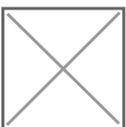

Just look at my gorgeous midnight blue gown ð??•

And the super pretty gown designed by their in-house designer, which I featured in one of my previous posts as well! I really really like this white gown â?? it is my favourite white gown out of their entire selection!

Their photographer snapped this candid shot of us when we were running to the last spot location (cos there were only a few min left before we got chased out) and I loved this!

Anyway for those of you who have emailed me for tickets, I've secured your slots! The lady boss says need to limit the number of attendees as they're worried that they won't be able to host everyone well if the crowd is too big, so I'm gonna close this off by midnight!

Excited for our #dayrebrides meet-up!

For those of you who can't make it for this closed-door opening, I'm sorry but I've been asked not to reveal the name of the bridal studio for now as they're swarmed already by word of mouth referrals! You guys might wanna wait a few more months until my wedding is over and I get down to writing my post-wedding review? I think they'll be okay to reveal by then once business stabilises.

Can't believe we're so close to the wedding now! A few more days left before I sign my life away to this man ð??±ð??±
