

Learn to Invest in just one day

Description

Find investing too difficult to get started on?

To be honest, it did take me a long time to pick it up when I started back then. A lot of materials that existed out there on the topic were so daunting and technical – The Intelligent Investor itself took me months to get through cos I had to keep rereading just to grasp the concept. The more enjoyable ones which made for easier reads, unfortunately, were too brief as well.

I would say it took me a year, or even more, before I even felt like I understood and felt ready to start putting real money in.

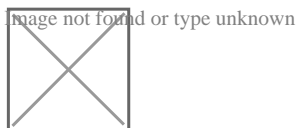

What if you could shorten that learning curve, and pick up investing in just one day?

So I'm pretty much 80% done with the online course that I talked about on @sgbudgetbabe:160517 and here's my honest review for those of you who are still undecided!

Firstly, I'm so thankful I signed up, but I only wish I did it earlier at the BEGINNING of my investing journey?! Urgh I could have saved so much time (months!!) if I did! (and then I missed their previous opening and was waiting for an entire year...??)

Getting started today is so much easier and accessible than in the past! You guys have it good man.

Here are some sneak peeks into the course (eh don't report me to the course providers can? Gamxia) :

There's 8 modules in total, broken up into bite-sized content. You could even read or listen to the videos on your way to work!

Obviously I'm not gonna give away their investment system here lol cos it's their intellectual property and something people are paying for k. This was the main reason why I signed up!! For their checklists and charts! ?

Image not found or type unknown

Dayre square crop helped to block out the stock name lololol don't ask me please, you'll know if you're going for the course.

Image not found or type unknown

Don't know why some stocks go up and down? They'll teach you how demand and supply will help you understand, and even potentially predict what's going to happen next for the stock price. Almost like having your own crystal ball into the future....sort of.

Image not found or type unknown

Beyond the #dayrebeauty stock ideas I gave yesterday, they also give you other stock ideas to look at!

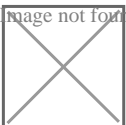

Image not found or type unknown

I tend to examine insider trading as another sign to buy or sell, and here you'll be taught what exactly to look out for and how to spot.

Trick question: DBS head, Piyush Gupta, famously bought DBS stock at $13.88 in the recent market downturn (Feb 2016) and sold this month at $20.53. Is that a signal for you to buy, hold or sell DBS?

Image not found or type unknown

Folks pay good money every year to attend investing conferences just to get some stock ideas and stock tips.

I saw quite a few good ones on this course hint hint

Image not found or type unknown

Look at those crazy returns! ? I missed out sia

Image not found or type unknown

Not sure what to make of your research after that? Want the experts to help you check? You can ask their fund managers in the forum as well.

(OMG so many emails from you guys I'll try my best to reply all before I sleep k!)

Holy crap discussing about Bitcoin with my friend now and the bubble-like rise is really... ?

Thinking whether to do a Bitcoin post but it's gonna be very taxing. The topic quite cheem ?

Category

1. Investing
2. Stocks